The kinds of special educational needs for which provision is made at Lutterworth High School.	What kinds of SEND do students have in your school?	Children are identified as having SEND when they have a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of children the same age or have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of education facilities of a kind generally provided for children of the same age in schools within the area of the Local Authority (SEND Regulations 2014). Students at Lutterworth High School have a range of difficulties including communication and interaction, cognition and learning, social, emotional and mental health difficulties and sensory or physical difficulties.
Information about Lutterworth High School's policies for the identification and assessment of pupils with special educational needs.	How do you know if a student needs extra help?	When your child first joins Lutterworth High School Academy Trust, we use information from a range of sources to help identify SEND and other needs. These include information from parents/carers, primary school teachers, end of key stage 2 levels, base line testing, literacy and numeracy tests, application form information, transition programme of primary school visits, enhanced transition programmes, specialist professional colleagues and external agencies. Our class teachers, Curriculum Leaders and Heads of Key Stage closely monitor the progress and attainment of all students, including those who have or may have SEND. The continuous monitoring of students during their time at Lutterworth High School will further identify any students with an emerging special educational need. This identification may come from tutors, subject teachers, learning support staff, Heads of Key Stage, outside agencies, parents/carers or from the students themselves. If your child needs to be assessed, we would use a range of assessments depending on the area of need. If it is thought that the family is in need of support, a referral can be made to outside agencies. All students with SEND and who need extra support, are on the SEND support register, which is accessible to all staff. All students with a SEND have an Individual Education Plan indicating relevant strategies to support their specific needs. Staff use this information to inform their lesson planning, teaching and learning activities. Targeted interventions are planned and delivered where appropriate. In order to meet individual needs it is sometimes necessary to provide a personalised approach to learning and support. This approach may include small group or individual work across a broad range of activities to support the educational and emotional development of the student.

How the school evaluates the effectiveness of its provision for such pupils.	How will I know that my child is making progress? How do you evaluate provision?	All students, including those with SEND, are assessed on a regular basis, in accordance with the school's assessment policy. Teachers formally assess and review progress and attainment three times a year. Data is communicated to parents/carers by a report that is sent home. Additionally, Parents' Evenings are held once per academic year to discuss progress, attainment and further steps to improve. All students with an Education, Health and Care Plan have an Annual Review. Students on the SEND register will also have a termly review and parents will have the opportunity to discuss their child's progress on a termly basis. The school has a process that assesses the effectiveness of teaching and learning for all students, including those with SEND. The outcomes of these evaluations are used to create and implement development plans for all aspects of school life.
The school's arrangements for assessing and reviewing the progress of pupils with special educational needs.	How do you check and review the progress of my child and how will I be involved?	The school will send home two reports a year which will show your child's current progress as well as reporting on their attitude to learning. Curriculum Leaders, Heads of Key Stage and inclusion staff will monitor your child's levels and identify any subjects where your child is not making the appropriate level of progress. We will then put any necessary intervention in place. At subsequent reporting time we will check whether the right progress has been made. We welcome the involvement of parents/carers and want to keep you up-to-date with your child's progress. This will be done through Parents' Evenings, notes in organisers, emails, telephone calls, appointments made with individual teachers and Annual Reviews and termly reviews for those students on the SEND register. The school provides information for parents through newsletters, information on the website, Open/Information Days/Evenings and letters home.
The school's approach to teaching pupils with special educational needs.	How do teachers help pupils with SEND?	All of our teaching and learning staff have high expectations of all students, including those with SEND. All teaching and learning staff will be informed about your child's individual needs and will adapt their lessons to meet these requirements. Teachers are trained and have experience in doing this. This may involve using different teaching and learning strategies, the provision of different learning experiences, adaptation of resources and activities so that your child can access the lessons fully. There is a variety of teaching and learning staff roles within the school to fully support your child. Where it is felt necessary and right for your child to be offered additional help and support you will be informed. There is a range of interventions and additional subject

		specific support which is available should your child need it; this will be discussed with you. When your child is approaching the start of Key Stage 4, if needed, we will assess and apply for Access Arrangements in line with the Joint Council Qualifications exam regulations.
How the school adapts the curriculum and learning environment for pupils with special educational needs.	How will the curriculum be matched to my child's needs? How accessible is the school environment?	Most students follow a traditional curriculum, however a small number of learners will have a more personalised approach to learning and support to match their individual needs, interests and abilities. This may include option choices, additional literacy, supported studies, intervention groups, nurture groups alongside a number of qualifications studied. There have been some adaptations to our buildings for access by those with physical difficulties and specialised needs. We strive to make all areas of the curriculum accessible to all students, with individual support if necessary. The school is a safe and welcoming building and we have a range of different facilities including disabled toilets, ramps and equipment to help with reading and writing to ensure accessibility for all. The school has an Accessibility Plan in place and is available from the school website.
Additional support for learning that is available to pupils with special educational needs.	Is there additional support available to help pupils with SEND with their learning? How are the school's resources allocated and matched to children's educational needs? How is the decision made about how much/what support my child will receive?	We have a wide range of teaching and learning staff to support students and address any additional needs they may have. Staff include HLTAs, teaching and learning support assistants, pastoral support staff, SENDCO and the school counselling service. Resources are allocated based on evidence of need and effectiveness. Students with a Education and Health Care Plan have resources allocated as outlined in their Statement or plan. Higher level teaching assistants and teaching and learning assistants are allocated, where resources allow, to support students in lessons. Teaching staff and teaching and learning support assistants liaise closely to ensure maximum effectiveness in the classroom. In addition, each department has an identified SEND link person to facilitate dissemination of strategies for personalising the learning. Students with EHCPs will have outcomes and strategies set out in their Plan. Annual Reviews involving the student, parents/carers, subject teachers and other professionals evaluate those outcomes and strategies. The decision is based on evidence of need and impact.

How the school enables pupils with special educational needs to engage in the activities of the school (including physical activities) together with children who do not have special educational needs.	What social, before and after school, and other activities are available for pupils with SEND? How can my child find out about these activities? How will my child be included in activities outside the classroom, including school trips?	A range of academic, sports and interest clubs as co-curricular activities are available at Lutterworth High School after school. These are open to all students including those with SEND. We run a Homework Club every lunch time and twice a week after school. A friendship/ buddy club is held during lunch and break times. Invitations for those more vulnerable students are based upon information from all staff. Details of co-curricular activities are available on the school website, SOCS and the weekly newsletter. All students in the school are encouraged to take part in co-curricular activities. Day and residential trips are open to all students and your child's specific needs can be discussed if they wish to join such a trip.
Support that is available for improving the emotional, mental and social development of pupils with special educational needs.	What support will there be for my child's overall wellbeing?	At Lutterworth High School we take our pastoral responsibilities very seriously. We provide a high level of support and guidance. All students are members of a tutor group that they remain with (in most cases) as they progress through the school. This allows for a strong relationship to build between tutor and student and parents/carers. In addition there are other members of staff who provide pastoral support, these include the pastoral support staff and HLTAs, teaching and learning support assistants, designated safeguarding leads, SENDCO and the School Counselling Service. We can also liaise/refer with external agencies to provide support or to address emotional, mental and social development needs of our students.
